Dear FCMA Members:

The Annual Membership Meeting of the Fort Caspar Museum Association will take place on Saturday, October 4, 2014, in the Museum's Multi-Use Room. The meeting will accompany our Fall Lunch-and-Learn program, beginning with an optional lunch at 12:00 noon, followed by the FCMA meeting around 12:30 pm, and finally, the lecture at 1:00 pm.

In conjunction with our current exhibit Please Give Us One More Boom, curator Leslie Waggener from the American Heritage Center will present on Wyoming's oil and gas industry.

At this time, we are requesting that you consider putting your name—or the name of another FCMA member—forward as a candidate for one of the four available two-year Board positions. To be qualified, a candidate must be at least 18 years of age, current on their FCMA membership dues, and willing to commit to the monthly meetings of the FCMA Board and various other Board functions.

If you are interested in serving on the Board, please contact Rick Young at the Museum (307/235-8462 or ryoung@cityofcasperwy.com) or a member of the Nominating Committee (below) for more information. An expression of interest needs to be received by the Museum by e-mail, phone call, or traditional letter no later than close of business Friday, September 12, 2014. The Nominating Committee will then contact the candidate for a very short biography and any additional information it needs to form the slate for the Annual Meeting.

For members wishing to volunteer to serve the Association but not commit to the rigors of the Board, please contact any Board or Museum staff member and ask how to support different aspects of Museum functions.

We strongly encourage all available members to attend the annual meeting to cast a vote and to hear about FCMA accomplishment and learn about upcoming events and activities.

Hoping to see you there,

FCMA Nominating Committee
and Board Members,

Diane Mattern (dialmattern@bresnan.net)
